China's other voices are rarely heard in the West, and China's other poets still more rarely. However, the first five months, from the Democracy Movement's emergence in late November 1978 to the regime's first real attempt at a clampdown in late March, early April 1979, have provided plenty of opportunities to find, read and hear uncensored poetry -- the Beijing Street Voices of the title.

He and his confreres developed a new literary style, subverting the norms of both classical and revolutionary Chinese poetry by writing free verse lines that melded oblique, daring images with a dreamlike, even oracular voice, as in "Hello, Baihua Mountain" (translated by Bonnie S. McDougall): It was a wind within a wind, drawing
