Classical Economics Today: Essays in Honor of Alessandro Roncaglia is a collection of essays that pays tribute to Alessandro Roncaglia whose research is based on Schumpeter ' s dictum that good economics must encompass history, economic theory and statistics, and therefore does not generally take the form of elegant formal models that are applicable to all and everything. In this direction, Roncaglia is inspired by the Classical economists of the past and becomes a model for present-day Classical economists. A perceptible family air imbues the essays: all the contributors are friends of Roncaglia and see his personality and his interests as a common point of reference.

This second edition's core objective is to provide a complete overview of the relevance of renewable energy in all EU Member States and the developments in these countries over time. To give an even broader perspective, contributions focused on some non-EU countries - like the US, Switzerland, and China - are also included. Not only are development plans and requirements by the State and other authorities included in this volume, but it also includes: legislative requirements for renewable energy * support mechanisms * grid access rules * grid code * supervision of the renewable energy sector * overview of planning * construction and operation * use of specific structural and cohesion funds for renewable energy project development.

The protection of the environment and economic growth are two important aspects of modern sustainability initiatives. By placing these two together, a competitive advantage is developed by utilizing green factors with investing. Sustainable Entrepreneurship and Investments in the Green Economy is an essential reference publication for the latest research on green entrepreneurship and its impacts on investment activity within sustainable development and competitive markets. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics and perspectives such as contemporary enterprises, global feeding, and waste management, this book is ideally designed for practitioners, students, and academicians seeking current research on green entrepreneurship and investments.
